

David Crawford Takes Oath as BAMSL President

Today attorney David Crawford took the oath of office to become the new President of the Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis (BAMSL). His one-year term becomes effective April 30, 2008. "I'm honored to have this opportunity to serve the lawyers of metropolitan St. Louis," Crawford says. "My goals for the year are to increase service to the community by providing opportunities for pro bono activities and to further increase diversity in the Bar."
