About the Speakers

Paul Fleischut has spent his 19-year career practicing patent, trademark, and copyright law with the IP boutique firm Senniger Powers in St. Louis. He has authored numerous presentations and articles on intellectual property law and legal ethics, including Review of Trademark Law in the 8th & Federal Circuits (BAMSL 2002), Federal Circuit Year in Review (BAMSL 2008), Ethics in Trademark Law (BAMSL 2000), U.S. Patent Law Reform (American Chemical Society Meeting, New Orleans 2008), and most recently, Ethics in Intellectual Property Law (Kansas Bar Association 2009). Mr. Fleischut received his J.D. from University of Missouri, where he served on Law Review, and his B.S. in Metallurgical Engineering from University of Missouri-Rolla. Senniger Powers, the largest intellectual property firm in Missouri, is celebrating its 90th anniversary in downtown St. Louis.

Ericka Jura is a member of Thompson Coburn LLP's intellectual property practice area, specializing in patent and trademark litigation. Ericka has represented clients before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. In that capacity, she has drafted summary judgment motions and trial briefs, as well as managed the various technical aspects of trial preparation before the Board. Ericka has experience drafting settlement agreements involving both patent and trademark rights. Ericka received her undergraduate degree from Washington University in St. Louis in 2002, where she majored in Philosophy-Neuroscience-Psychology, and her law degree from Vanderbilt University Law School in 2006.
